ADVERTISING

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business;
And insures success in any business

GIRARD'S SECRET —Stephen Girard used to say in his old age "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost"

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.
KEEP YOUR NAME BEFORE THE PUBLIC.
JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING INSURES A FORTUNE.
IF BUSINESS IS DULL ADVERTISE.
IF BUSINESS IS BRISK, ADVERTISE.

The man who didn't believe in advertising has gone into partnership with the sheriff, and that official does the advertising. Jy16d3m

OREGON

John Burnett has been appointed City Attorney of Corvallis

One slough turned out in McMinnville last week on the appearance of the snow

A special term of the Circuit Court for Linn county begins on the 10th of December

Gov Grover has appointed H C Paige, Register of the State Land Office at La Grande

City election in Salem on the 2nd proximo. Candidates are beginning to crop out and count noses.

The steamer Albany, on her trip to Corvallis last week met with an accident to her machinery which necessitated her laying up at Fairfield for repairs

The St Paul Press of the 7th inst, puts Oregon down among the States that "have gone for Greeley" She has "gone for" him in a way that he don't admire.

Two hundred and fifty men are wanted to subscribe $100 each to the stock of the State University, and the committee are going to work immediately to find them.

It is reported that owing to the unsettled condition of the track beyond Smith's Hill, six miles this side of Oakland, passenger trains will only run to that point this winter

At an independent mass meeting at Salem, last Saturday, A. J Monroe was nominated for Mayor, Wm Crump for Marshal, Mr. Johns for Treasurer, and John C. Booth for Recorder

Mr Pilbean, of Yaquina Bay, during the season just closed, caught between 3,000 and 4,000 salmon He captured over three tons in one night. The salmon season is only of three weeks duration

A petition is in circulation at Salem, asking Gov Grover to pardon Mat Bledsoe, who was sent to the penitentiary for life, from this county several years ago The petition is accompanied by a certificate from two doctors that further imprisonment will endanger his life.

The Mountaineer says "Sheriff Schutz arrived last Wednesday from Bridge Creek, and reports the snow storm very heavy in that vicinity. He also says that had he not been well prepared he would in all probability have frozen to death on the road from Bridge Creek to Maupin's"

Miss Libbie Woodward, a former student and teacher in the Wallamet University, died at Albany last Saturday Her funeral took place at Salem on Sunday, and was attended by a large concourse of people. Her father, Rev. L P. Woodward, was at one time president of the University

The committee appointed to examine sites for the State University have been tendered the free donation of ten acres of land by Hon. J. H. D Henderson, being a tract situated on the extension of Eleventh street, east of the corporation limits of Eugene, and will recommend to the stockholders that that place be selected.

The Statesman says: "The prospectus of the Newport Coal Company has recently been placed in the London money market. The Company proposes a capital of $1,000,000, half in preference shares of $50 each, for which subscriptions are invited The object is to purchase a coal property at Coos Bay, in Oregon. The price to be paid is $500,000 cash and $500,000 in ordinary shares."

From the Reporter. "From Mr. John Turney, who has just come over the mountains from Tillamook, we learn that the snow was about two feet deep, and he says it is still a snowing He estimates that at the rate it was snowing the mountains are covered about four feet by this time Johnny had a rough time coming over, and says he froze his ankles so severely that he can hardly walk. Some cattle are on the way over en route for Portland

From the Mountaineer "On Sunday night the snow commenced falling, and with but little cessation has continued up to the present time As far as the eye can see is one vast sheet of snow from 10 to 15 inches deep, and we learn that in the Blue Mountains and Grand Ronde valley it has fallen to the depth of from four to five feet Should this state of things continue throughout the winter it will be hard on our stock-raisers Two heavy winters in succession is too much, and for the benefit of our friends who are thus interested we pray that Providence will let up a little and give us considerable more sunshine between times

Says the Statesman of last Saturday "We found Mr. R. P. Earhart, clerk in the Superintendent's office, busy yesterday, making out the "parchments for the Indians of the Grand Ronde Reservation They are certificates of assignment rather than deeds. The allotment to the Indians are in severalty to families as "Lot No 1 to General Quinaby and Mrs. General Quinaby This certificate gives to General and Mrs Quinaby the right to fence in lot No 1—20 acres—to build houses, fences, tenements, etc, thereon, to dig, plow therein, to gather mow and reap therefrom, and to do and perform all such acts concerning the same as they might rightfully do were it deeded to them, except to sell it or carry it off. Of course not all these things are set down and nominated in the bond, but we are informed it is the legal effect of the certificate There are about 150 of them to be issued to the Grand Ronde families"

From the Plaindealer "The heavy rain storm which prevailed in this valley for some time past, has caused much inconvenience to the railroad. On Sunday a heavy land slide occurred on the Rice hill, about four miles north of Oakland, in Quinn's cut The earth still continues to slide, and the mud is so thin that it is removed with difficulty A large force is at work, which will be continued until the track is cleared. At present the passenger train is met at the slide by the construction train, which brings the passengers and mails to Roseburg On last Monday there was a slide in Lieburs cut, about a quarter of a mile north of Roseburg, which a large force of Chinamen removed next day The work of ballasting the road with gravel from pits near the depot at this place, is being pushed as rapidly as possible with one locomotive Should the rain cease for a few weeks the track will be put in first rate order"

CHINESE SUPERSTITION.—The North China Daily News has the following The memorial of Ting Pao Cheng, in the Peking Gazette of the 24th June gives the following extraordinary revelations of the superstitious cast of the Chinese mind Our readers will remember that during the height of the Tientsin floods, last autumn, Li Hung chang, a man distinguished for his clear common sense and administrative ability, joined in offering worship to a miserable little snake which had been picked up and placed in one of the temples afterward extolling, in a memorial to the throne, the divine favor exhibited by the appearance of the wretched reptile We have now another instance of the same kind, even more ridiculous and in this case, also, the memorialist is a man of distinguished ability, which he has given evidence of, both in connection with foreign and Chinese matters He reports wonderful miracles on the part of the river gods, in saving embankments and helping the men who were at work on them, over and over again Apparently the Taiwang are credited with power to make the waters abate just at the critical moment, but not to avert such unfortunate crises altogether The river god is, in every case a water snake, which popular fancy has converted into a deity

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 16.

EASTERN STATES.

Extent of Suffering by the Fire

CHICAGO, Nov 15 —A dispatch from Rev Robert Lloyd Collier Chairman of the Relief Committee, who went from this city to Boston says no estimate has yet been made of the number of families burnt out Probably there are not more than 300 It is supposed there are 25,000 sewing women and clerks out of employment

The destruction of property, by those best fitted to judge is estimated at $80,000,000

BOSTON Nov 15 —The safes of J M Beebe Winthrop Square have all been opened but nothing remained of their contents except a few charred books and papers. Messrs Howell, Kingsley & Finch recovered their safe and a lot of jewelry in a damaged condition The partly wrecked safe contains a portion of gold coin which was melted The property in the largest proportion of safes recovered was ruined

Harvard College suffered to the amount of $652,000 by the fire here, including the value of the land It will cost a half million dollars to rebuild Toward this it has $100,000 of good insurance, out of $210,000 The total is thus reduced to $300,000 This (says President Elliott) we must beg

Rebuilding.

BOSTON, Nov 15 —The site of old Fort Hill is the scene of active building operations A number of wooden structures are in process of erection

Relief

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16 —Several thousand dollars were subscribed this afternoon in this city in aid of the Boston sufferers

A Broad Challenge.

NEW YORK, Nov 16 —Colonel McDaniel offers to match his stable for three races against any horses in the world —two three or four mile heats—for $10,000 or $20,000 each race The races are to be run over the Saratoga course at any time between the last of July and the 1st of October

Warrants of Arrest.

ROCHESTER, Nov 15 —Warrants have been issued by United States Commissioner Stowe for the arrest of Susan B Anthony and fourteen other females who voted at the late election The parties will most probably be brought before the court next week

The London Times Advises Canada to Secede.

NEW YORK, Nov 16 —A London letter of November 2d says "The London Times is one of the most cautious and circumspect journals in existence, but it has printed a leader on Canada that has aroused universal British wrath. The obnoxious article was to the effect that the Canadians had been very badly used by the British Government during the whole course of the American negotiations; that their interests had been informally sacrificed, that as there was no hope of their ever having justice done by a Ministry in London, they had better cut connection at once and set up on their own account. It assumes that the Canadians must of necessity be anxious to The Times urges them to go at once and not stand upon the order of their going, and bids them God speed The article has provoked a storm of protest and repudiation." The correspondent adds. "There are two things about as certain as anything which only a matter of opinion can be First, that if the Dominion asked for independence in a deliberate, authentic, manner, it would get it for asking, and second, that the Dominion will not be thrown off by England"

THE TERRITORIES.

Garfielde's majority in Klickitat county is seventy five.

An Olympia paper says "Sternwheel steamers are forbidden to navigate the waters of Puget Sound after the 15th inst."

In Owyhee county, Idaho, the Republicans elected, on the 5th inst, the Sheriff, Treasurer, Auditor, Assessor and three out of four members of the Territorial assembly.

"Old Hill" editor of the Avalanche at Silver City and Sheriff elect of Owyhee County got a severe stab in his right hand recently while attempting to quiet a row between two drunken men.

The Idaho World says "Bradford (Dem.) is elected Sheriff, and Gorham (Dem) Assessor, in Boise county The Republicans have probably elected the greater portion of their Legislative ticket."

Ben Davis and Jim Combs had an altercation at the polls in Silver City on the afternoon of election day, resulting in the former receiving a bullet in the leg and the latter getting a blow over the head with a six shooter.

A man left a wagon load of apples standing on the street in Olympia while he went into a saloon to get a drink, and on returning found that some of the citizens who were passing by had just tasted them to the extent of two bushels and a half.

Four hundred head of sheep were shipped from Olympia for Victoria last week. They were raised in Oregon and driven from this State by Mr. Jackson. Many of them were of the South down breed, and all were in excellent condition.

The Tribune says. "It is not true that many houses in Olympia are without tenants, Oregon and California papers to the contrary notwithstanding" If it was not true a few days ago, one of the Olympia papers has not been truthful, that's all.

On Thursday of last week 300,000 feet of logs were sold at auction at the Register's and Receiver's office in Olympia, at the rate of ten cents per thousand, and were bought by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. These logs were seized on the part of the Government by B H. Tuttle, special deputy, at the camp of David Munson, on Port Susan Bay.

Billy Burns shot and severely wounded a man named Dan Copeland, in Sommercamp's saloon, in Silver City, I T, on the 8th inst. We understand that Burns fired four shots, three of which hit Copeland—one in the left side of the breast one in the left leg above the knee, and the other through the right hand. No bones were broken, and the wounds, though painful, are not considered dangerous"

Says the Olympia Courier "A gentleman just up from the Chehalis Reservation informs us that the late improvements instituted there by General Milroy for the Indians are well under way. A large school house, two stories high, 28x44 feet, is being built Also a store house, 16x70 feet, and two shops, each 18x24 feet. General Milroy is a practical man and well qualified to manage the Indian Department, being both farmer and mechanic. He is said to have more than 100 patents for inventions in mechanical implements which are of his own invention"

The Owyhee Avalanche says "About half past nine o'clock, on Thursday night the 8th inst two men named John Craven and Richard Roach had a quarrel in the Owyhee Exchange saloon, resulting in the latter being shot through the right arm above the elbow, severing the main artery and causing death from the loss of blood about three o'clock the next morning. It is thought that Craven was cut by Roach, but how badly no one knows, as up to the time of going to press he had not been found. Whisky was in all probability the cause of the trouble."

An Episcopal Church is about to be erected at Deer Lodge. It is to be called "St James," after St James Church, Batavia, New York, which contributed $1,000 to build it, and is to be a memorial of the Rev. Morelle Fowler, formerly Rector of St James, Batavia—more latterly a missionary in Montana—and who with his wife and three children, perished about two years since on the Hudson River Railroad The Rev Mr. Stoy, formerly of this city, expects $1,600 help from the East to build with, and has opened a subscription at Deer Lodge with a view of raising $2 500 more, and has already secured over $1,800 of this sum

AN ENGLISH BORGIA —An English newspaper, speaking of Mary Ann Cotton, asks, "Is she a Brinvilliers?" Probably she is entitled to such a classification, and certainly she is if she committed half the crimes attributed to her In 1832 she married a laborer named Mowbray, by whom she had seven children, who all died suddenly of what was called gastric fever, as also did her husband and his mother, all their lives insured. The woman married again and again. The husbands died suddenly as the first one had done In 1867 she blessed a widower, the father of five children, and soon not one of the family but herself and her new husband survived. Not liking his persistency in living she went to stay with her mother, who shortly afterward was carried to the churchyard In July, 1870, she became a bigamist by marrying Frederick Cotton, also a widower with two children, who did not survive him. In a month or two a lodger in her house went with her son from among the living, suddenly, as all the others had done, and then it was thought to be about time to arrest the woman, who now lies in Durham jail charged with wilful murder Some of the bodies of her supposed victims have been examined and found to contain arsenic. In each of these fatalities the prisoner had a slight pecuniary interest.

A TRUE HEART.—We clip the following from the Cumberland, Maryland, News:

An affecting story is told in connection with the collision on the Parkersburg branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Saturday last. Our readers will remember that John Walker, the fireman of one of the engines, was caught between the "foot board" of the tender and the hot wall of the engine furnace, from which position all efforts to rescue him were unavailing The poor fellow, suffering the most excruciating pain, begged his companions to kill him rather than let him die in that position, and finally became calmer and, taking from his pocket a small blank book and pencil, wrote a farewell message to his wife, who lives at Pottsville, Pa. The devotion of a man in such a fearful position as the one described above must be very great to cause him to forget his terrible agony and impart sufficient nerve and strength to his hand to indite even the shortest farewell message to the loved ones at home.

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business;
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S STORY —Stephen Girard used to say in his old age "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost"

OREGON

John Burnett has been appointed City Attorney of Corvallis

One sleigh turned out in McMinnville last week, on the appearance of the snow

A special term of the Circuit Court for Linn county begins on the 10th of December

Gov Grover has appointed H C Paige, Register of the State Land Office at La Grande

City election in Salem on the 2nd proximo Candidates are beginning to crop out and count noses

The steamer Albany, on her trip to Corvallis last week met with an accident to her machinery which necessitated her laying up at Fairfield for repairs

The St Paul Press of the 7th inst , puts Oregon down among the States that "have gone for Greeley " She has "gone for" him in a way that he don't admire

Two hundred and fifty men are wanted to subscribe $100 each to the stock of the State University, and the committee are going to work immediately to find them.

It is reported that owing to the unsettled condition of the track beyond Smith's Hill, six miles this side of Oakland, passenger trains will only run to that point this winter

At an independent mass meeting at Salem, last Saturday, A J Monroe was nominated for Mayor, Wm Crump for Marshal, Mr. Johns for Treasurer, and John C Borth for Recorder

Mr Pilbean, of Yaquina Bay, during the season just closed, caught between 3,000 and 4 000 salmon He captured over three tons in one night. The salmon season is only of three weeks duration

A petition is in circulation at Salem, asking Gov Grover to pardon Mat Bledsoe, who was sent to the penitentiary for life, from this county several years ago The petition is accompanied by a certificate from two doctors that further imprisonment will endanger his life.

The Mountaineer says "Sheriff Schutz arrived last Wednesday from Bridge Creek, and reports the snow storm very heavy in that vicinity. He also says that had he not been well prepared he would in all probability have frozen to death on the road from Bridge Creek to Maupin's "

Miss Libbie Woodward, a former student and teacher in the Willamette University, died at Albany last Saturday Her funeral took place at Salem on Sunday, and was attended by a large concourse of people Her father, Rev L L Woodward, was at one time president of the University

The committee appointed to examine sites for the State University have been tendered the free donation of ten acres of land by Hon J H. D Henderson, being a tract situated on the extension of Eleventh street, east of the corporation limits of Eugene, and will recommend to the stockholders that that place be selected.

The Statesman says "The prospectus of the Newport Coal Company has recently been placed in the London money market The Company proposes a capital of $1,000,000, half in preference shares of $50 each, for which subscriptions are invited The object is to purchase a coal property at Coos Bay, in Oregon. The price to be paid is $500,000 cash and $500,000 in ordinary shares "

From the Reporter "From Mr. John Turney, who has just come over the mountains from Tillamook, we learn that the snow was about two feet deep, and he says it is still a snowing He estimates that at the rate it was snowing the mountains are covered about four feet by this time Johnny had a rough time coming over, and says he froze his ankles so severely that he can hardly walk. Some cattle are on the way over en route for Portland

From the Mountaineer "On Sunday night the snow commenced falling, and with but little cessation has continued up to the present time As far as the eye can see is one vast sheet of snow from 10 to 15 inches deep, and we learn that in the Blue Mountains and Grand Ronde valley it has fallen to the depth of from four to five feet Should this state of things continue throughout the winter it will be hard on our stock raisers Two heavy winters in succession is too much, and for the benefit of our friends who are thus interested we pray that Providence will let up a little and give us considerable more sunshine between times

Says the Statesman of last Saturday "We found Mr R. P Earhart, clerk in the Superintendent's office, busy yesterday, making out the parchments for the Indians of the Grand Ronde Reservation They are certificates of assignment rather than deeds. The allotment to the Indians are in severalty to families on Lot No 1 to General Quinaby and Mrs. General Quinaby This certificate gives to General and Mrs Quinaby the right to tenant in lot No 1—20 acres—to build houses, fences, tenements, etc , thereon, to dig, plow therein to gather mow and reap therefrom and to do and perform all such acts concerning the same as they might rightfully do were it deeded to them, except to sell it or carry it off Of course not all these things are set down and enumerated in the bond , but we are informed it is the legal effect of the certificate There are about 150 of them to be issued to the Grand Ronde families "

From the Plaindealer "The heavy rain storm which prevailed in this valley for some time past, has caused much inconvenience to the railroad. On Sunday a heavy land slide occurred on the Rice hill, about four miles north of Oakland, in Quion's cut The earth still continues to slide, and the mud is so thin that it is removed with difficulty A large force is at work, which will be continued until the track is cleared At present the passenger train is met at the slide by the construction train, which brings the passengers and mails to Roseburg On last Monday there was a slide in Lieber's cut, about a quarter of a mile north of Roseburg, which a large force of Chinamen removed next day The work of ballasting the road with gravel from pits near the depot at this place, is being pushed as rapidly as possible with one locomotive Should the rain cease for a few weeks the track will be put in first rate order "

CHINESE SUPERSTITION —The North China Daily News has the following The memorial of Ling Pao Cheng, in the Peking Gazette of the 21th June, gives the following extraordinary revelations of the superstitious cast of the Chinese mind Our readers will remember that during the height of the Tientsin floods last autumn Li Hung chang a man distinguished for his clear common sense and administrative ability, joined in offering worship to a miserable little snake which had been picked up and placed in one of the temples afterward extolling, in a memorial to the throne the divine favor exhibited by the appearance of the wretched reptile. We have now another instance of the same kind, even more ridiculous, and in this case, also, the memorialist is a man of distinguished ability, which he has given evidence of, both in connection with foreign and Chinese matters He reports wonderful miracles on the part of the river gods, in saving embankments and helping the men who were at work on them, over and over again Apparently the Taiwang are credited with power to make the waters abate just at the critical moment, but not to avert such unfortunate crisis altogether The river god is in every case a water snake, which popular fancy has converted into a deity

NEW YORK, Nov 16 —A London letter of November 2d says "The London Times is one of the most cautious and circumspect journals in existence, but it has printed a leader on Canada that has aroused universal British wrath The obnoxious article was to the effect that the Canadians had been very badly used by the British Government during the whole course of the American negotiations that their interests had been infamously sacrificed that as there was no hope of their ever having justice done by a Ministry in London, they had better cut connection at once and set up on their own account. It assumes that the Canadians must of necessity be anxious to The Times urges them to go at once and not stand upon the order of their going, and bids them God speed The article has provoked a storm of protest and repudiation " The correspondent adds, "There are two things about as certain as anything which only a matter of opinion can be First, that if the Dominion asked for independence in a deliberate authentic, manner, it would get it for asking, and second, that the Dominion will not be thrown off by England "

These logs were seized on the part of the Government by B B Tuttle, special deputy, at the camp of David Munson, on Port Susan Bay.

Billy Burns shot and severely wounded a man named Dan Copeland, in Sommercamp's saloon, in Silver City, I. T , on the 8th inst We understand that Burns fired four shots, three of which hit Copeland—one in the left side of the breast one in the left leg above the knee, and the other through the right hand No bones were broken, and the wounds, though painful, are not considered dangerous "

Says the Olympia Courier "A gentleman just up from the Chehalis Reservation informs us that the late improvements instituted there by General Milroy for the Indians are well under way. A large school house, two stories high, 28x14 feet, is being built . Also a store house, 18x70 feet, and two shops, each 18x24 feet General Milroy is a practical man and well qualified to manage the Indian Department, being both farmer and mechanic. He is said to have more than 100 patents for inventions in mechanical implements which are of his own invention "

The Owyhee Avalanche says "About half past nine o'clock, on Thursday night the 8th inst , two men named John Craven and Richard Roach had a quarrel in the Owyhee Exchange saloon, resulting in the latter being shot through the right arm above the elbow, severing the main artery and causing death from the loss of blood about three o'clock the next morning It is thought that Craven was cut by Roach, but how badly no one knows, as up to the time of going to press he had not been found Whisky was in all probability the cause of the trouble."

An Episcopal Church is about to be erected at Deer Lodge. It is to be called "St James," after St James Church, Batavia, New York, which contributed $1,000 to build it, and is to be a memorial of the Rev Morelle Fowler, formerly Rector of St James, Batavia—more latterly a missionary in Montana—and who with his wife and three children, perished about two years since on the Hudson River Railroad The Rev Mr Stoy, formerly of this city, expects $1,500 help from the East to build with, and has opened a subscription at Deer Lodge with a view of raising $2 500 more, and has already secured over $1 800 of this sum.

AN ENGLISH BORGIA —An English newspaper, speaking of Mary Ann Cotton asks, "Is she a Brinvilliers? " Probably she is entitled to such a classification, and certainly she is if she committed half the crimes attributed to her In 1832 she married a laborer named Mowbray, by whom she had seven children, who all died suddenly of what was called gastric fever, as also did her husband and his mother, all their lives insured The woman married again and again The husbands died suddenly as the first one had done In 1867 she blessed a widower, the father of five children, and soon not one of the family but herself and her new husband survived Not liking his persistency in living she went to stay with her mother, who shortly afterward was carried to the churchyard In July, 1870, she became a bigamist by marrying Federick Cotton, also a widower with two children, who did not survive him. In a month or two a lodger in her house went with her son from among the living, suddenly, as all the others had done, and then it was thought to be about time to arrest the woman, who now lies in Durham jail charged with wilful murder Some of the bodies of her supposed victims have been examined and found to contain arsenic In each of these fatalities the prisoner had a slight pecuniary interest.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 16.

EASTERN STATES.

Politicians in Trouble.

NEW YORK, Nov 16 —A Washington special says the city is filling rapidly with politicians, who comment severely upon the course of the President, in relation to the Civil Service rules as manifested in his remarks to the Pennsylvania delegation in regard to the appointment of the postmaster of Philadelphia. They allege that the strict enforcement of Civil Service rules will exclude many men from holding office who have just claims on the Republican party and who can creditably fill the offices for which they apply, but nevertheless cannot pass a Civil Service examination

Bodies Recovered

BOSTON, Nov 16 —The remains of two bodies were taken from the ruins of the fire on Wednesday The remains are in charge of an undertaker There is no way of identifying them, except by patches of their clothing. More proof that it was the Apaches and Mojaves that murdered Loring Hamel and other citizens, has come to light by the capture of a shot pouch bearing Hamel's name in the recent fight with the murderers

A TRUE HEART —We clip the following from the Cumberland, Maryland, News.

An affecting story is told in connection with the collision on the Parkersburg branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on Saturday last. Our readers will remember that John Walker, the fireman of one of the engines, was caught between the "foot board" of the tender and the hot wall of the engine furnace, from which position all efforts to rescue him were unavailing The poor fellow, suffering the most excruciating pain, begged his companions to kill him rather than let him die in that position, and finally became calmer, and, taking from his pocket a small blank book and pencil wrote a farewell message to his wife, who lives at Pottsville, Pa The devotion of a man in such a fearful position as the one described above must be very great to cause him to forget his terrible agony and impart sufficient nerve and strength to his hand to indite even the shortest farewell message to the loved ones at home.

MONDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 18 1872

Our Governor's Organ Pettyfogs Again

The litigant organ still insists that Governor Grover had the authority of judicial decisions to sustain his position, that the law giving Democratic papers a monopoly of the public printing, cannot be repealed. But it does not respond to our frequently repeated question, What courts have so decided and in what cases were the decisions made? The Governor said in his veto message that such had been held by "high judicial authority" and the people have a right to inquire, whether His Excellency is trifling with them upon such an important matter or not. They have a right to ask him to show the authority on which he acts when in the discharge of his functions as a public servant, he excuses himself for overriding the well understood wishes of the people, expressed through the action of the popular branch of the Government, by referring to judicial decisions by which he is bound. No such decision has ever been made in this State, as the Governor knows. If the decision to which he referred was made in some other State, it behooved Governor Grover to point out that decision and to show that the statute upon which it was founded was similar to ours. This he neither did nor can do.

The Governor's failure to be specific was far less liable to criticism, however, than the attempt of his litigant organ at Portland, to mislead and deceive the public by citing as proof that such decisions had been made a document which, on examination, turns out to be an advertisement clipped from a Democratic newspaper of San Francisco. This, the Herald intimates is all the foundation the Governor had for his official statement that this had been decided to be the law. We are not willing to believe His Excellency acted in so grave a matter upon no better evidence than this. That neither he nor his litigant organ can point to such a decision as he mentions, emanating from a court whose decisions would be received as authority in any judicial investigation, we know to be true, but we are willing to believe the Governor was misled into taking this false position by something more than the clap-trap of a business advertisement mentioning the matter merely as the opinion of nisi prius Judges—and specifying no case in which such decision had been made. There is not the slightest evidence to show that even a District Court of California ever made such a decision. If it did why is not the case mentioned? No lawyer thinks of relying on a decision without being able to cite the court to the court and the case in which it was made. The District Judges of California are very numerous, and are not Judges of the Supreme Court, and the idea of their being "high judicial authority" is simply ridiculous, but the evidence that even they, or any of them, have decided the law to be as Governor Grover and his litigant organ state it, is wholly wanting.

This attempt of the Herald to bolster up its general and indefinite assertion of the existence of judicial precedent for the Governor's position by referring to a California newspaper's advertisement, when even that does not support its statement, shows to what despicable littleness a person can resort, who has made up his mind to stick to a falsehood he has once told, in the face of the truth which is shown to him. The candid journalist, however partisan in his feelings, would have acknowledged his error when he discovered it. The uncandid one seeks a subterfuge to cover up his misstatements.

We have not pretended to discuss the question whether or not the principle of the litigant law is right, nor expressed any opinion upon that point. The people of the State, who are supposed in this country to be the final judges of all such matters, have said it was wrong, and the Governor has not pretended to consider that they decided unwisely. We suppose that branch of the subject was conceded by His Excellency or he would have taken the position in his veto, that the Litigant Act was a salutary law and ought to stand. Had he taken this ground, his veto would, at least, have raised a question with two sides to it, and would have been, therefore, entitled to be received without ridicule or contempt. But he chose rather to mention an authority, which neither he, nor any other lawyer in the land, ever saw, to establish a proposition that he and every other lawyer in the land knows to be wholly without foundation. We met the Governor and his litigant organ upon this ground, and demanded that they should specify the decisions to which they referred. Not only have they failed to do so, but they have shown that they cannot do so by the miserable attempt they have made. Come, gentlemen this is the ground you chose to fight this battle upon. Come to the work this is no time for flinching. We do not propose to let you squirm out of your unpleasant predicament. And, since His Excellency has such an exalted opinion of vested rights that he will defy the settled law of this country to keep his newspaper publishers in office, when the people and the Legislature have said they must go out, how will he explain his approval of the Portland Police Bill of two years ago, which legislated the Police Judge and City Marshal of Portland out of office, just after the terms commenced to which they had been elected by the people. Apprehending this inquiry will not be very promptly answered by His Excellency and his organ, we venture to suggest that the fact that those city officers were Republicans instead of Democrats, may assist our readers in reasoning upon the subject, if it does not fully answer the question.

Just Right

The Washington dispatch announcing the President's refusal to be dictated to by a delegation of politicians from Pennsylvania in the matter of appointing a postmaster at Philadelphia, is doubtless unsatisfactory to the politicians, but it is just what honest people have long waited and prayed for. They now feel that the proposed civil service reform is more than an empty sound.

If President Grant has distinguished himself as the executive head of the nation more by one characteristic than another, it is perhaps, his firm and unwavering loyalty to law. Whatever is the law is his rule of conduct, and from which he swerves not for any consideration. His statement, on the occasion of his inauguration as President that the best means of securing the repeal of an odious law, is its rigid enforcement, was the key note to the subsequent policy of his administration. He is still on the same platform. The civil service regulations are, to him, something more than a means of securing votes. They are to be enforced. His promises of civil service reform are not cast aside when the election is over and they can no longer be used for electioneering purposes. The people elected Grant President believing him to be sincere in his expressed wish so to reform the system of making appointments to the civil service as to secure competent and faithful officers rather than to reward politicians and their friends for party services. If the President's answer to the delegation of Pennsylvania politicians is an index to his future course in civil appointments, the people will not have trusted him in vain. Let this course be steadily pursued through the remaining four years and a half that Grant has yet to serve as President, and he will be even more popular when he retires than he now is and will do his country a more important service than by any other reformation that it is possible for him to make.

The New York Times gives this synopsis of the Country Reform bill, which is creating so much feeling in German court circles. It has been introduced by the Government in order to protect the country against the effects of incessant clerical agitations. It aims at defining the boundary line between Church and State with greater exactitude than at present. Civil marriage is constituted a valid guarantee of the contract matrimonial, without the benediction of any church being held indispensable, and the registration of births is to be placed in the hands of the civil authority.

The Tribune of the 6th—next day after the election—in summing up the results, places among the doubtful States California, Delaware, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Oregon and Wisconsin. A State that was considered doubtful about that time was certain for Grant. The Tribune's article on the election is headed "The Liberal Triumph Postponed."

A Toronto Globe special from Fort Geary Nov 5th says: "It is reported here that the Boundary Line Commission have found the Canadian Custom House, at Pembina, to be on the American side of the line, which is said to be run between the Custom House and the Hudson Bay Company's post."

The Chicago Evening Mail of the 6th gives a list of the States supposed to have gone for Greeley, with the estimated majority in each. Among the list we find the name of Oregon, with a majority of 1,000.

The Lafayette Reporter publishes editorially and without credit the OREGONIAN's compilation of statistics of the population of Oregon.

Horse Shoeing

HILLSBORO, Nov 15, 1872.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

My attention has been called by some friends to articles on horse shoeing, lately published in various papers in our State. In giving a brief opinion, founded on several years' practical experience as well as a close study of the subject, I would simply say, that there are as many theories in horse shoeing as there are pathies in medicine and that every horse shoer has a theory of his own, which, too often he will not vary from though he ruins a dozen horses.

Horse shoeing is a necessary evil. An evil, because the driving of nails into the healthy part of the foot deadens and destroys the vitality for a space around the nail, and stops the growth of the foot for a short period, an evil, because the shoe when firmly nailed on does not admit of that spring in the foot which nature has so wisely provided. To illustrate, place your hand on the table and watch it expand and contract as you throw your weight on or take it off. Just so with a horse's foot when traveling without shoes, though not so perceptible. It is necessary, because the wall of a horse's foot, be it ever so good, is liable in striking any hard projection to break off or split so badly that it is with difficulty that he is able to limp through the journey. Again, the shoe, if it is of a proper width, prevents sharp stones or stumps from bruising the sole of the foot. However, I do not propose at this time to write a treatise on horse-shoeing, but simply wish to give a few reasons for the assertion that horse shoeing is a necessary evil, and that good, sound judgment is required in its use.

Of farmers, there are two classes of extremists: the man that never shoes, and the man that is always shod. There are times when a man commits the gravest of errors by forcing his horses to wear shoes. On the farm, when circumstances would admit of the team doing the work without shoes,—such as plowing and the general home work, the trimming and oiling of the feet is all that is required, but when a team is to be driven on the road it is necessary to have something to protect the foot—not great clogs weighing from one and a half to two lbs each, but surely heavy enough to support the foot without giving,—and these not set upon corks from one to two inches, causing the horse to walk like a boy on stilts. If it is necessary to have corks, have them very short, but sharp. Many horses are ruined by owners themselves having the shoes on too long. I have removed shoes from horses that had remained on three months, and outraged nature had rebelled and forced the wall of the foot out over the shoe all round three fourths of an inch. The result of it was that the sole of the foot was badly bruised, and corns had taken full possession where the brace and wall joins at the heel. The owner invariably cries that his horse has been ruined by bad shoeing, when it is traceable only to his own carelessness or stinginess in not having the shoes reset at the proper time. The great secret of the faith some men have in shoeing is, they never begrudge the time and money expended in having the shoes removed at the proper time. Hence the damage done to the foot is not so serious but what a few weeks run barefooted makes all things right again. As a matter of course, this applies only to farming districts.

In conclusion, I will say that a sensible man always shoes when it is required and takes the shoes off as soon as his business will permit it to be done.

Secretary Seward's Religious Views

The following letter from Mr Seward to Thurlow Weed is published in the Eastern papers:

WESTFIELD, CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY,
Sunday March 26, 1837.

MY DEAR WEED: I have received yours of the 19th. It was written in answer to mine of the date of a fortnight since. Frederick was very ill, and was much reduced, but thanks to the mercy of God, is spared to us. You can have no conception how much my heart is bound up in the life of that blessed boy.

I have to-day, not without fear and trembling, but I trust in sincerity and firmness of purpose discharged a duty unknown before. For years past I have struggled against prejudices of early education which rendered religion a mystery and yet carried about me a conviction that it was in reality a simple and beautiful system the profession and practice of which were obvious duties. After what, I trust has been a proper self examination I presented myself this morning for baptism and was received into the visible church and for the first time enjoyed the Communion Supper. I mention this fact which will be inharmonious with your daily thoughts and occupations, because it is an important event in my life, and one which, therefore it is best you should know directly from me, instead of hearing it by report. If in one of those seasons (which seldom occur) when you are alone and free from the pressure of immediate care you remember the circumstance, your intimate knowledge of my recent experience of human events will, I doubt not, enable you to trace the causes and manner of my becoming more serious than heretofore in regard to religion. If that or other course of thought should lead you to the conviction that what I have done is an obvious and proper duty developed upon yourself as well as me and all others, it would be a source of great happiness to me. You will not be likely to fall into the error into which others will in respect to myself. But I may as well be explicit with you. I profess not to have experienced any miraculous change of heart or to have in any way gone through that ordeal of despair commonly supposed to be the entrance, and the only entrance upon Christian life. I have always been sensible that I was an offender and a grievous one against the duty I owed to God and my fellow men. I have only avowed now to repent and resolve with God's grace to live more in the fear of and under the influence of love and gratitude to God and to that end to study His revelation. I do not anticipate that it will make any considerable change in my habits of life but I humbly trust that it will gradually elevate and refine my motives of action. Commend my love to Mrs Weed and Harriet. Ever yours,

WILLIAM H SEWARD.

CITY.

OPERATIONS SUSPENDED —The intention of the Portland Gas Company when excavation was begun at the corner of F and Sixth streets for a gas reservoir, last summer was to have the holder nearly completed by the first of next January. This would have probably been the result had not unavoidable delay occurred in the arrival of a portion of the iron, of which the holder will be constructed. The walls of the reservoir were completed some weeks ago but the bottom has not yet been lined with brick and concrete. The incidental fixtures of the holder arrived some time ago at San Francisco by sail and were reshipped to this port. The plate iron, designed for the holder, was shipped from New York about the first of last April on board the ship Harvest Queen, via Cape Horn. This ship was compelled to put in at Rio Janeiro in a stress of weather in a leaky condition on the 4th of June. All the cargo was discharged, the needed repairs made to the vessel, the cargo placed again on board and the Harvest Queen sailed for her destination on the 20th of July. She is due at San Francisco and can confidently be expected to arrive at any time should she have encountered no second disaster. Immediately on the arrival of the material at San Francisco it will be reshipped to Portland. The plates of iron have not been pressed into the proper shape, nor riveted. This work will have to be performed here by thoroughly experienced and skillful mechanics. It will require a number of men at least two months to accomplish this work, and put the iron in a condition to build the holder, section by section. The holder will not be ready to be placed in the reservoir until next spring. Additional delay will be incurred by the want of a water proof bottom. Water from the river will soak through the porous soil and rise in the reservoir to a corresponding height. Before the bottom can be placed down the water must subside, which will not until the middle of spring. For the present operations have been suspended, and will not be resumed before the spring months except to prepare the material for the gas holder.

CRIMINAL JOTTINGS —Mr A Carr was arrested last Saturday on a warrant issued from Justice Ryan's Court. The defendant is charged with keeping open a public drinking house on Sunday. This is the second case for a similar offense which has been tried before Ryan within the last month. The case will be examined into this morning.

A man named Fox was arraigned before Judge Denny Saturday morning. The defendant was charged in the complaint of having assaulted one John Robinson, with a knife. At the time the offense was committed, the defendant was intoxicated. The court imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

Josephine Johnson about three weeks ago left some clothes at the wash house of Hop Sing. She paid for them and received a portion of them back, the balance being refused unless a previous unpaid wash bill was settled. Hop Sing was arrested and brought before Justice Ryan. He demanded a jury trial and the case was thereupon continued until Monday, November 18, at 1 o'clock P M.

Dan Davis and John McCall, were each fined $5 and costs, by Judge Denny, last Saturday, for having assaulted the person of Capt Corno, on the night of the 15th, with the evident intention of robbing him.

The case of John Winter, accused of having sold diseased and unwholesome meat, was tried before a jury in the Police Court, Judge Denny presiding—Saturday morning. The case was argued and submitted and the jury after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty. His Honor thereupon ordered the discharge of the accused from custody.

CHANGE IN THE WALL —In the advertising columns will be found the notice given by the County Clerk that bids will be received at his office until next Saturday, November 23d, for the changing of the new wall in front of the Court House, so that it shall correspond with the grade of Fourth street. The work will require the raising of some portions and the lowering of others to meet the requirements of the contract. The County Court convened last Saturday for the purpose of selecting a design for the iron railing which is to surmount this wall from the numerous plans submitted for their inspection. In consequence of these alterations which are necessary to be made to the wall, the court deferred the selection of a plan until the next special meeting—Saturday, 23d inst.

I O R M —On Friday evening last, the 15th Sleep of the Beaver Moon, the D V. I Alex Campbell, assisted by the Chiefs and Brothers of Multnomah Tribe No 3, instituted Oneonta Tribe No 4 and raised the following Chiefs to their respective Stumps: Sachem, L F A Shaw, S. S, A B Hallock, J S, R Bassel C of R, O F Ball, K of W, O E Farnsworth 1st S, J O Breeze, 2d S, H R Leonard 1st W, W K Badger; 1st B, W T Webber, G of W, Theo Barker, G of F, Jno Parrow, Prophet, John B Pilkington, Past Sachem. Oneonta Tribe will kindle its Council fire every Sixth Sleep at the Wigwam of Multnomah Tribe No 3 at the 7th Run and 30th Breath.

ON THE WAY —The steamship John L Stephens which sailed last Saturday for this port brings the following passengers: Mrs A M L Fourtaine and three servants, Gov E S Salmon, A Finne, gan, S E Earnbam Dr H R L ser and wife J M Cash R Hewett, J F Warren, S Frohman Miss D Smith, M Wise Jas Liddy, M T Linsey, J Peerley and wife, J Vorburgh, wife and child C Goodnough and daughter, M Gundlach Miss I Gundlach, Mrs Calkins and child Rev J A Wirth and wife, Mrs J Pinney D Keefe and wife C I Hayward, Mrs J S McCain, Mrs F Smith, R L Jenkins, D Reeves J B Barton, wife and son, A A Sinton wife and child.

DRIFTED TO SEA —Nothing has ever been discovered of the five men who were drowned in the early part of week before last, except a roll of blankets and the wreck of the ill fated craft. It is thought that the bodies have probably drifted out to sea during the rough, stormy weather which has succeeded the unfortunate event. Had not this been the case some of the remains would have been stranded before now.

CONVENING OF COURTS —The U S District Court will convene this morning at 10 o clock.

The Circuit Court will convene at the Court House at 9 o'clock A M this day.

The County Court will hold a special session next Saturday, 23d inst.

The Police Court will convene as usual this morning at 10 o'clock.

MAINTAINING A NUISANCE —Mr Ginty has been indicted by the grand jury of the Circuit Court for the erection and maintenance of a nuisance. The nuisance alleged to have been committed, consists of keeping a number of hogs on a ranch situated contiguous to the Canyon Garden, and within the corporate limits of Portland.

LARGE POTATO —A very large potato has been laid on our table, which was raised on Sauvies Island. That locality must be a fertile spot for the production of those vegetables if the one before us is a fair specimen. It weighs just even five pounds and is solid clear through. Who proposes to beat that?

BOARD MEETING —There will be a meeting of the Board of Equalization, held at Salem to day. The Board will consist of Messrs G L Curry, John Whittaker, and N H Gates and the meeting will be to effect an organization and be in readiness to transact such business as may come before them.

AWAITING TOWAGE —The bark Vanworth is still at Astoria awaiting towage to this city. The weather has been so rough that it has been a difficult task to bring a large vessel up the river against the wind, and a feat attended with the constant danger of grounding on the numerous islands.

TO RAINIER —The Grassmere having nearly finished her charge at this port was towed down the river yesterday by the Dixie Thompson as far as Rainier. At that point she will receive the rest of her cargo from the steamer and then proceed to Astoria.

NEW KEEL LAID —The new keel for the second scow to be used in connection with the new dredger, was laid a few days ago. The scow will be completed in the course of two weeks.

SKATING —Real genuine old fashioned skating was indulged in yesterday in several places. Skating parties were out in East Portland at Beaty's Lake, and Gilles' Lake below this city.

ESTABLISHED —Postal Agent J B Underwood has recently established a new postoffice at St Joe. Dr Littlefield has been appointed Post master at that place.

PLEA ENTERED —William Bryan against whom a true bill had been found by the grand jury for larceny, was arraigned Saturday in the Circuit Court. The defendant pleaded guilty, and this morning was set by the Judge as the time for passing sentence.

FAST RECOVERING —The young man Payne who was accidently shot some weeks ago, near Sandy is rapidly convalescing and will soon be able to travel around. His recovery is a matter of surprise considering the serious character of his wounds.

OPINION ANNOUNCED —This morning on the convening of the United States Circuit Court his Honor Judge Deady will announce his opinion in the case of Jos Rachman assignee, vs N L Packard and also in the case of Misner vs Vaughn.

AROUND AGAIN —Mr J Estes who was so severely injured in one of his wrists from a fall last week, is again able to be around although he will be compelled to carry his arm in a sling for some time to come.

AT ASTORIA —The bark Red Deer is the only vessel now lying at Astoria ready to go to sea. The bark Jane A Falkinburg is finishing her cargo at Westport and will be ready to go to sea in a few days.

DOME FRAME —The frame for the dome which will surmount the new Custom House building has been raised. This portion of the building will be completed this fall before the suspension of work.

WINTER SCHEDULE TIME —On and after the first of December the schedule time for the winter will go into effect. Mails will reach this city from the end of the line—Tehama—in five days.

ON LAND —The little schooner Katie Herron, which sailed last Friday afternoon for Tillamook, was blown ashore on the head of Sauvie's Island, and was still fast aground at the last account.

FOR VICTORIA —The steamer California sailed late Saturday evening for northern ports. She carried away a full cargo, and a few passengers.

BEACHED FOR REPAIRS —The little propeller Wehfoot has been beached near the foot of Pine street to undergo some repairs to her propeller.

Capt Crandall of the States favored us with a call last evening.

Miss L Hunt and Mrs W D dd of Portland arrived at San Francisco last Saturday overland from the East.

Major Robert took his departure on the steamer Oriflamme for San Francisco. Mr R bert goes below to attend the meeting of the Board of Engineers for the Pacific coast. Among the principal business to come before the Board will be the examination of the plans for the Portland Bridge Company.

BUSINESS NOTICES

Read the advertisement of Messrs Boericke & Tafel Homœopathic Pharmacy No 234 Sutter street San Francisco.

Chas A Ball, Esq, formerly of the firm of Durham & Ball has his law office in the same building still. He is both willing and able to attend to any business that may be entrusted to him.

Messrs Taylor & Brownell have reduced the prices on dry goods to such a figure as to attract the ladies to their store in numbers. Observe the prices we say to the ladies and then visit Taylor & Brownell for bargains.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Clear and rather pleasant yesterday.

Ducks and wild geese plenty in the markets.

The moon now rises about half past 6 o'clock.

"Fay" will be the next sensation at the theater.

The "Lyricoties" have not yet appeared in this city.

"All Among the Roses" is the popular song of the day.

San Francisco dates up to the 11th inst, are on hand.

Portland enjoys immunity from the prevalence of sickness.

Ship Lorne is the only vessel now receiving cargo at this port.

Lay in your winter supply of wood before it goes too high in price.

Eastern papers, with big headings announcing the great victory, have reached us.

There are employed at the Oregon City Manufacturing Company 125 operatives.

There is a shoemaker's journal lately started. Be sure you ask for the last edition.

Hay, as an article of exchange for coin is popular with agriculturalists at present.

Imitate him if you wish to succeed in business —DeFrans, the man who advertises.

"Bleed" your friends as much as you please, but don't bleed your horses at present.

Eureka Encampment No 1 I O O F, will give a ball at Philharmonic Hall this week.

There will be several important criminal cases to dispose of the present term of Circuit Court.

Sell your—well anything you have got but be sure and get a copy of "All Among the Roses."

Vinaigrettes are now made of dull gold, to represent a hunting horn and hung at the waist belt.

Ladies have evidently discovered that the "Greeley Wave" style of hair dressing is no long, er fashionable.

A new style of bonnet is called the Clarissa Harlowe; the modistes are going into obscure literature to find sponsors for their inventions.

The Gothic style (so called) of jewelry is much in vogue. It consists of transparent enamelling of various colors set in gold filigree work.

Turkeys being a high priced commodity, they will have to take a back seat about Thanksgiving Day, unless there is a reduction in prices.

If any person has doubts whether advertisements are read or not, let him put something he does not wish seen in an obscure part of the paper.

"All Among the Roses" published and for sale at Gray's Music Store the only music publishing house on the Pacific coast. G L DeFrans, Manager, Portland, Or.

The Musicale given on Saturday evening would have been a complete failure had it not been for Mr V, the gentleman from the East, who sang "All Among the Roses."

Several persons came down from Salem on Friday evening's train intending to take passage for San Francisco on the steamer, but upon reaching the depot, found the steamer gone.

Don't run all over town trying to find the new song, "All Among the Roses," but go direct to the publishers and get it, where you can hear it played before you buy it, at Gray's Music Store.

It was a man living in Couch's Addition who cleaned out his chimney the other day by shooting a gun down. He proposes to hum sweet things into the ear of the man who told him it was a good way.

We acknowledge the receipt of a pamphlet of 76 pages issued from the office of the Chief Signal officer, Washington D C. The pamphlet is for the practical use of Meteorological reports, and contains weather maps, etc.

Why are vehicles of all description permitted to be left standing on prominent thoroughfares like Second Stark and Washington streets? In many places these streets are choked up with vehicles standing over Sunday.

The tints for party wear this season are exceedingly pale. For promenade costumes, bronze, sage green, stone, iron rust, and peacock green are fashionable. Fashionable society is beginning to brush up and prepare for the campaign. Elderly unmarried daughters are brought forward, polished and tinted for the front row, while the younger sisters are kept more in the background. The young men look grave, and are more ready for flirtations than real business.

SUMMER has forsaken us and winter with its chilly winds and freezing blasts has given us the first notice of its presence, and we have begun to prepare for its rigors. Gentlemen desiring to be clad seasonably now have the opportunity of procuring winter suits or garments, either ready made or put up to order in a style that cannot be excelled in any respect. The stock at Fishel & Roberts is so large that little trouble is experienced in selecting clothes. The sales of overcoats the past few days have been large, and the rush continues. Prices favorable.

The old saying is "What everybody says must be true," and everyone says that Beck & Waldman have the largest and best selected stock of the latest styles and patterns in gentlemen's Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the city of Portland. They have the largest variety of Boy's Youth's and Children's Suits, all which will be sold according to the times. Please call and satisfy yourself that we will not be undersold by anyone.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that Consumption can be cured; but it is far better to prevent the cruel disease from fastening itself on the system, by the timely use of a remedy like Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. This standard preparation will speedily cure a cough for cold and even Consumption often yields to its great power.

Like Regular upon Breast [illegible] the teeth should always be scrupulously clean and free from blemish. Keep them in this condition with the incomparable Sozodont and when they are veterans in the service they will still be as good as new.

To protect the understanding of humanity, nothing there is like leather fastened together by CABLE SCREW WIRE. Boots and Shoes made in this way never rip, or leak or come apart.

TAKE IT IN TIME —Coughs and colds will not wait. They are deceptive, and the patient of an imagines him self better even when he has not used the proper treatment for cure. Attend to it at once. Wistar Balsam of Wild Cherry is our oldest cure for these complaints.

Be on the Safe Side

We hold health and life by a frail tenure, and not to protect them to the best of our ability would seem to argue a deficiency of common sense. The searching winds and cold rains of spring the tropical heat of summer the malarious vapors of autumn and the paralyzing temper ature of winter are all inimicable to those finely adjusted and sensitive pieces of mechanism we call our bodies. Each season has its peculiar perils and the fall is perhaps as prolific of dangerous disorders as any of them for at this season fevers and bowel complaints are very apt to take an epidemic form. As a preventive of this class of diseases Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cannot be too warmly recommended. In it are combined five essential medical properties. It is a tonic at once powerful and wholesome a stimulant pure and undefiled; an aperient mild and painless; an antibilious agent of marvelous efficacy and a general regulating medicine without an equal in the pharmacopœia. These five distinct properties operating together in perfect harmony, produce a condition of the system somewhat analogous to that brought about by a course of pugilistic training. In other words as judicious physical training hardens the flesh and renders it comparatively fist proof, so does this marvellous invigorant increase the capability of the organs of the body to resist the more indirect and insiduous assaults of disease. It imparts new elasticity and strength to the vital machinery and those who use it as a preventive of intermittent fever dysentery diarrhœa dyspepsia rheumatism and other ailments common at this season may walk fearless through an atmosphere impregnated with the morbid elements which give rise to those maladies.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.--1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Beautiful Woman.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the Complexion the Freshness of Youth.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM overcomes the flushed appearance caused by heat fatigue and excitement. It makes the lady of forty appear but twenty and so natural and perfect that no person can detect its application. By its use the roughest skin is made to rival the pure radiant texture of youthful beauty. It removes redness, blotches and pimples. It contains nothing that will injure the skin in the least.

MAGNOLIA BALM is used by all fashionable ladies in New York, London and Paris. It costs only 75 cents per Bottle and is sold by all Druggists and Perfumers.

A Shipwreck

Steadily blows the north east wind
And the harbor flag blows straight from the mast
And the sailors lounge and look on the pier
And smoke their pipes and think it will last

Yonder the cloud rack lowers and glooms
And the sweet blue sky is hidden away
Whilst the muttering waves grow hoarse and loud
And you have to shout the thing you say

The distant fleet of the white-sailed ships
Come hastening landward with wet black sides
As they [illegible] of the gusty wind
Now a rush now a pause on the churning tides

The spumy froth of the rock vexed waves
Gathers in creamy [illegible] on the [illegible]
Then away in fluttering flocks it speeds
For ledges and hills far inland

The sea birds dip and wheel in the air
And search the surges with ready eyes
They hang with tremulous wings on the [illegible]
Then away on the blast with their shrill wild cries

Yonder the people crowd on the cliff
Where the long grass is flattened and bent,
As the stress of the hurricane [illegible]
Every eye to the seaward is fixed intent

Far down below are the cruel rocks
All dark and slippery with black seaweed
And pits profound where the whirlpools run
Forever revolving with hideous speed

How the ships come Let them come, poor barks
Here is the harbor quiet and still!
Once entered, the weary can calmly sleep
And dream of their home without fear of ill

How the ships come! What's that! A helm
Is carried away and she drifts to the blast
Over her deck sweeps a roaring wave
And up the rigging the crew run fast

On she comes for the rocks! O men!
O maids and mothers! O daughters and wives
You are sitting at home by the hearth fire warm
And the sea has a hold of your loved ones' lives

Now she strikes on the rocks! No aid
Can reach her there! she must tumble and [illegible]
Till at last a great third wave will come
And eat her up, and ingulf the whole.

There—they are lashing themselves to the spars
Shrill on the wind comes their bitter cry
They are waving their hands! Up out of the mist
A billow rises and breaks, and goes by

All is vanished the ship and the men
Crumbled, and crushed and hurried away
Here are splinters on every rock
All over the beach, and round the bay

There on the sands, is a sailor's cap
And there, close by, a man on his face
And there are the others! Oh cover them quick
And carry them off from this fatal place

They are laid in the yard of the weather-worn church
And the grass will grow on their quiet grave
But, O Lord in heaven hadst thou spoke one word,
It had stilled the wind, and curbed the wave!

But perhaps thou wert speaking Our ears are dull,
And we cannot discern in this atmosphere:
The men, as they drowned might have clearer sense
Might have heard thee well and seen thee near

We must all be patient, and bear our part
In the perilled toil of a wreckful world
But some Havening Rest may be found at last
When the anchors are down and the sails are furled
—From Chambers' Journal

The New Doomsday Book

William of Normandy conquered England A D 1066, and exactly twenty years later, had a statistical survey of the kingdom made which still exists It was known by various names—but for some centuries has been called the Doomsday Book—a title the origin of which is unknown, though it is supposed to indicate the supreme authority of the book in doom or judgment on the matters contained in it The Conqueror, as William is historically called, being a man of business, desired to possess accurate information as to the country he ruled, how it was held, and what manner of men were its tenantry—to ascertain in short, how much of the land in each county he could call his own and how much belonged to the nobles and clergy, the same with respect to the cattle, then constituting the greater part of the property of the landowner A principle object in ascertaining all this was to show how much revenue the King ought get, year by year, out of the land So exact was the inquiry that every hyde of land (variously stated at from sixty to one hundred and twenty acres), was accounted for in it This, the first and last book of the sort ever made, and the original, consisting of two manuscript volumes, still legible, is preserved in the Chapter House, Westminster Abbey Until the year 1521—the thirteenth of the reign of Henry VIII —the taxes were levied according to this old survey, but "bluff King Hal" (or rather his astute Minister, Cardinal Wolsey), had a survey made, which, when fairly written out, the people called the New Doomsday Book

Now, in the reign of Victoria, a still newer Doomsday Book is to be made The most singular fact connected with this is the actual cause of its being done It is not required for any national purpose, inasmuch as the public revenue is not obtained from land, but from taxation, part of which is directly levied on what is called "property," The present Earl of Derby (the gentleman, as Foreign Minister, in 1868, endeavored to adjust the Alabama claims by a negotiation with Mr Reverdy Johnson) has suggested that a newer Doomsday Book shall be made. Himself the possessor of estates in Lancashire which yield him a revenue of $400,000 a year he was annoyed by the perpetual taunt in the columns of radical newspapers from the lips of radical orators that one half of England is owned by a hundred and fifty persons, and (this was a statement rashly made by Bright) that half a dozen noblemen owned the whole of Scotland In order to show the incorrectness of these statements, the people of England are to have a new Doomsday Book, and will have to pay probably two million dollars for it Whether the soil of England, Wales, and Scotland be owned by one hundred and fifty, or (which would be nearer the truth) by some thousands of persons, is a matter of little importance It does concern Victoria's "loving subjects" that most of them possess nothing, and that a powerful aristocracy, with or without titles, possess millions upon millions of acres of land which ought to yield the food which has now to be imported from foreign land at vast expense, and, from the creation of the world to the present time, have never been touched by plough share or spade It is a terrible condition of affairs when honest Hodge, the laborer with a wife and a half a dozen of children, cannot earn more than from ten to twelve shillings a week, and has to pay a rack rent for the rod of land on which he raises a few potatoes, while the Duke of Marlborough, with a perpetual pension of $20,000 a year attached to the title, is the owner of Blenheim Park which is wholly uncultivated, and is so extensive that the stone wall which surrounds it is seventeen miles long —Forney's Press.

LIGHTNING ON THE CREST OF THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.—Gray's Peak is the home of the thunder The lightning knows it as the eagle knows its nest Being the highest of all the peaks of the Sierra, it attracts the clouds, which almost daily gather around its head and burst upon it, so that it sometimes tries the nerves of the boldest to run the gauntlet of these storms At such times the whole mountain seems charged with electricity Those who have been caught at such a moment say it shot through them like needles, it buzzed about their heads like bees, they could hear it whistle like a gale through the rigging of a ship The guides, being more accustomed to such things, are less terrified, but tourists are sometimes paralyzed with terror if not with the shock, and fall to the ground unable to move Even the guides sometime think it is a matter of prudence to throw themselves flat upon their faces so as not to present a point for the lightning to strike The poor dumb brutes, taught by instinct, turn their heads from the storm and let it beat If a party were caught on the summit in a long snow storm it is probable that they would perish In the blinding drifts it would be impossible to find the path, and no mortal strength could hold out for many hours Such accidents do not occur, because the guides are on the watch When they see a storm coming up, they bid all run for their lives They fly with speed and come down often trembling and afraid, as if like Moses, they had been up on the mount into the clouds, and had seen the awful power of God.

The old Dickens separation scandal has again been brought before British public by the action of the present Charles Dickens Rumor says that in Mr Forster's second volume of the "Life of Dickens," which it was announced would appear shortly, the biographer throws the whole blame of the unhappy separation upon Mrs Dickens To this Mr Charles Dickens objects, and it is said insists that "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," shall be told concerning the separation and the causes which led to it Some of the English papers, commending Mr Dickens' course, hint that Mr Forster's worship for his idol degenerates into flunkeyism and that he will not see anything wrong in any action of the object of his adoration No one who knows Mr Forster however will believe him capable of wilfully injuring an innocent woman and it is more probable that he is blinded by his love for Dickens than inspired by any unfriendliness toward his wife

CURIOUS INSTINCTS OF THE BEE —Honey bees are governed by instinct and not by art They never deviate from the course they were created in The first comb they ever built was as perfect as at the present day no art has improved the shape or size One bee lays all the eggs while others raise the young and protect them each bee does its part of the labor in gathering in the stores and nursing the young and I have noticed (says a correspondent) for several years past their mode of gathering pollen or bee bread It is this When a bee goes out after food it alights on some kind of flower and gathers a part of its load and then goes to another of the same kind of flower, and perhaps the third, to obtain a load Another bee goes out and if it alights on another kind of flower it keeps that kind till it gets a load But how is this known? You go to the hive and watch them as they come in some have yellow pollen on their legs others have light color others have dark but no bee has two colors on his legs If you see any you will see more than I have for I never did and have supposed that they stored it in different cells for a change of food The other day in overhauling a hive I broke out a new piece of comb and found the different colors in different cells which confirmed my belief for I suppose they like a change of food as well as humans

Another curiosity is their coming out and alighting before going off for amongst the hundreds that I have hived I never had one swarm leave direct from the hive Another curious thing is their rearing the males and nursing them so tenderly and after they become useless they destroy them But instinct has directed them to do it Another curious thing is that, when they get too numerous, the mother bee should call out a part of the brood to go with her and leave the others to take care of the young Why not call them all out to go with her? Because instinct has ordered it otherwise Certain ones go out with her, while others are coming in with stores for future use A certain part of them don't seem to have any inclination to follow the mother bee nor do they mourn her loss, for another is provided

THE HABITS OF THE RIVER PIRATES AND "DOCK RATS" —Wharf life in New York, we are told by the Commercial Advertiser, is singular It must be There are people who work upon the wharves in the daytime and who live under the wharves at night Many of the piers on the east side are the "snoozing places" for a score or more of beggars known as "dock rats" who creep down from the bulkheads and under the flooring of the piers, and perhaps sleep sweetly upon their bunches of dirty straw, where the rough stones of the filling in aid the mattress, and where water is handy by way of a morning bath, if they choose to take it The all night cellars lose their business in the warm weather for it costs nothing to creep beneath the wharf, it is clean and a great deal cooler —and so the "dock rats" live and thrive and learn their lessons of rascality from the river thieves who hide in the shadow of the vessels and hold their breaths in expectation as the boat manned by the police goes noiselessly with the dipping oar of caution and authority, floating past their hiding-place Under the watchful care of the harbor police there is more protection to property and life along the wharves than there used to be. The thieves know not when the steamer or the patrol boats are coming, and there is but little chance for to carry off their plunder; and the night watch the result of private enterprise, upon the largest piers is an energetic and effective institution

THE TURTLE —At the last school exhibition of a town in Maine, the following essay received the prize "On the turkle This animal is found most always in the water then he comes on land The turkle cannot fly If he was the right of kind a bird he could fly But if he was a goose bird or an ostrich he could not fly The turkle has four paws a mouth like the American eagle, which makes the British lion and the uniform tremble The turkle has a shell and sometimes folks put fire on it and the turkle falls out When the turkle crawls out of his shell he is very wet and sticky There are two kinds of Turkle, mud turkle and the other kind, We don't have any of the other kind. English and Irish people eat turkle and frogs, but I should not like to I caught a turkle once, but it did not do me any good, for I swopped it off for a jack knife and cut my fingers Father said it was judgment, but I thought it was a knife. I don't know much about known turkle, but I am for Grant

Yours respectfully, Tewsbury Fay "

Money circles seem to remain unmoved by any important changes to-day The week's demand for funds from the interior has fallen off considerably from that of the previous week while remittances from the same direction have also been small The San Francisco papers which contain accounts of the Boston fire are received and all agree that the effect on the Pacific coast will not materially affect or incommode general business and that the fire, destructive as it was will not be so great a shock to Boston as the Chicago fire was to that city by reason of the greater amount of reserved wealth but the effect is generally on the finances and business of the country including the insurance business will be more severely felt by reason of the recentness of their only partial recovery from the prior disaster The majority of insurance risks are said to be in local companies, which must lose the most heavily Some of the large companies outside of Boston, are publishing statements which show handsome surpluses above their liabilities

Two Great Fires Compared

The two great fires in the United States are thus compared by an exchange

The fire which nearly destroyed Chicago began on Sunday October 8 1871 at 9 30 P M and continued until Thursday following at 10 A M It burned over an area three miles long and one and a half miles wide containing 2,370 acres consumed 20 500 houses and $200 000 000 worth of property and rendered 110 000 people homeless The population of the city at that time was estimated at 334 270, and its property was assessed at $270, 000 000

The Boston fire has not burned over an area exceeding in dimensions half a mile either way or including more than 200 acres But this is in the commercial heart of the city where the vast wholesale business of a leading seaport concentrated where the buildings were all massive stone structures very costly and filled with valuable merchandise, very little of which could be removed by reason of the late horse epidemic The number of buildings destroyed is not yet given nor is the loss definitely ascertained the estimates varying from $80 000 000 to $100 000 000

As the fire was confined to the commercial part of the city but few dwellings were burned and the number of families rendered homeless is comparatively small. The population of Boston is about 250,000 and its taxable wealth is rated up to $700,000 000 Its wealthy citizens are the chief sufferers and they had previously lost much at Chicago where Boston capital was largely represented in real estate in trade and in railroads

Here we have two fires within nearly a year of each other partly destroying two of the largest cities in the United States and wiping out in the neighborhood of $400 000 000 of wealth—one-sixth as much as the whole debt of the United States Except in the matter of human life sacrificed this loss is far greater than Germany sustained by the late terrible war with France

Prospects of a Rise in Wheat.

The following is found in some of our Oregon exchanges and is credited to a San Francisco paper of the [illegible]

The produce market is rapidly improving from causes we have frequently stated would [illegible] result The supply of grain [illegible] The agents of the Bank and [illegible] are scouring the country to obtain all the outside lots before the advance which is now inevitable commences $1 70@1 75 have been offered for [illegible] in store at Brockton deliverable within 30 days It is the general belief that choice lots of wheat will command $2 within the current month

We failed to notice the above in our San Francisco exchanges and do not know in which one of them it was originally published but we certainly think the opinion there expressed is not well founded or justified by the facts in the case

We have heretofore given our opinion that the prospect of a higher figure for wheat is rather dark, and for this opinion we gave as our reasons the high tariff for charters the scarcity of tonnage the condition of the Liverpool market and the universal stringency in the money market, combined with the immense yield on this coast and the fact that the aggregate receipts at the various ports in the United Kingdom, whence comes our principal [illegible] have been much larger than usual at this period of the season To show that [illegible] impression is conveyed by the above extract [illegible] generally in California we give the report of our latest exchanges on the article of wheat The Bulletin of the 14th instant says Beyond the [illegible] [illegible] lots at $1 6[illegible] we have nothing [illegible]

The Call of the same date says [illegible] $1 60 Millers [illegible]

The Marysville Appeal of the 10th says [illegible] $1 62½

The Stockton [illegible] of the 12th quotes Wheat $1 4[illegible]

The weekly review of the San Francisco market by the commercial writer of the San [illegible] the subject we are indebted to the [illegible] There are signs of a [illegible] constant pressure of Wheat on the tide water Less grain is now exposed to the weather than for a long period and growers evince less anxiety to press sales [illegible] grain has been [illegible] exports for the season have been increased and there is less disposition to sell than previously The Liverpool quotations is vacillating and yet Wheat prices [illegible] no material variation Advices from Australia per steamer Mikado are unfavorable to early cargoes of Flour sent to the Colonies per the Brewster and other vessels Our mills are doing little export trade at present and for superfine grades very low rates continue to prevail while for extra steady prices remain The receipts are easing [illegible] The market firm for choice at $1 60 @1 62½ and for extra choice milling $1 65 is demanded Common to good is obtainable at $1 60a1 65 "

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 10th gives the same quotations and remarks as the Bulletin And so we might continue to make extracts from our late California exchanges but the above are sufficient to show that if the assertion that choice lots of Wheat will command $2 00 within the current month had any foundation on the 6th, subsequent events do not justify it now

Produce Market

There has been a fair amount of business during the week just closed notwithstanding the drawbacks which have occurred Prices have been steady and but few changes have been made

Wheat continues in liberal supply for the vessels now loading but only a limited amount is going into store at this place Our most reliable sources of information from San Francisco indicate no change in the market there, but show some disposition on the part of producers to hold off for better prices and we observe the same in regard to farmers in Oregon We shall endeavor to lay all the facts before our readers from time to time and make some suggestions as to the effect of events on the market so that farmers may draw their own conclusions as to the policy of the above course on their part To-day our quotations are unchanged from $1 40 per cental delivered at Linkoird

Oats Hay and Feed are firm at our last quotations

Dairy products are in good demand, with a tendency to advance

Potatoes are very dull and only choice lots command as much as 75 cents per 100 lbs

Eggs are still higher and becoming scarce

Our Home Trade, Generally.

The fall trade it was predicted would be all but on inquiry we learn that it has been very good, considering the stringency prevailing in money matters Many of our jobbers and wholesalers have exceeded last year's transactions, while others have hardly come up to them On the whole the volume of business has been perhaps a little below average, and all has been down on a very sound basis so that but little fear is entertained but that we shall come through the usually dull winter season all right commercially The Dry Goods business has been brisk, and though country merchants, in many instances now purchase in San Francisco the propriety of doing so is not without doubt, and others adhering to the practice of buying of their acquaintances here who have the amplest means of knowing the needs of the country and whose experience and knowledge of the market enable them to supply goods at such rates as make it profitable to buy here rather than go to the California market.

Since the fire in Boston there have been considerable transactions in those lines which have suffered most by that calamity, with a view to having a supply of certain articles in which a rise is anticipated, Thus far, on these articles, the old rates have prevailed

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients' letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco Post Office Box 1 957

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian
